We have chosen growing as our 1977 Landmark theme. It seemed only fitting in a year of great transition for the school. Many members of the Day School will agree there is a closeness of being together that is very unique at our school. We can only wish the new administration the best of luck, and that they too can grow together in the way we have.

GRADUATION

JUNE 8, 1977

Time as I've known it doesn't take much time to pass by me. Minutes into days turn into months turn into years they hurry by me. Still I love to see the sun go down and the world turn around. Dreams full of promises hopes for the future I've had many. Dreams I can't remember now, hopes that I've forgotten faded memories Still I love to see the sun go down and the world turn around and I love to see the morning as it steals across the sky and I love to remember and I love to wonder why and I hope that I'm around so I can be there when I leave and when you're gone ... I hope that you will think of us in moments when you're happy and you're smiling That the thought will comfort you on cold and cloudy days if you are crying. And that you'll love to see the sun go down and the world turn around and around and around

Mr. David O'Dell will be assuming the position of headmaster at the Evansville Day School at the start of the '77 school year. Mr. O'Dell will be arriving from the Miami Valley School, in Dayton, Ohio leaving his previous position as assistant headmaster. The students anticipate his arrival with great expectations and utmost enthusiasm.

DEDICATION

This year the senior class would like to dedicate the 1977 Landmark to two outstanding faculty members at the Evansville Day School. Their roles have been very different in the school, but both are very much alike in spirit—Mr. Kenneth Heekin and Mrs. Janet Martin have shown great enthusiasm, been generous with their time and have been especially devoted to the school.

Mr. Heekin, while being headmaster, has also been known to be moonlighting. He appears at all functions related to the school, whether it be a soccer game in Louisville, a fifth grade basketball game, or the Senior Prom. Sometimes we wonder what keeps him going. We've come to the conclusion it must be his closeness to the students and devotion to principals and standards he has helped establish for the school. On top of this, Mr. Heekin finds time to teach the infamous College Board Review Class. The one thing certain upon leaving his class is that everyone remembers his favorite rule "a noun or a pronoun linked with a gerund takes the possessive case."

Any student who has been with EDS in the Lower School vividly recalls the closing program each year and the Headmaster's special—tattered and worn "happy shoes" that permitted him to perform a splendid leaping exit from the festivities.

Mrs. Martin on the other hand has shown a special faithfulness to the school by chaperoning a group of 30 highschoolers to Chicago for the second year in a row. This year was quite a special opportunity to be able to see the King Tut exhibit. Mrs. Martin also volunteers her time (along with her husband's) to attend all the basketball games and chaperone open schools.

Mrs. Martin has made Physics a new dimension in learning. She has now finished her second year of Independent Physics, independent meaning we work at our own pace, with the assistance of Mrs. Martin for all of our questions. She is always there for any help while ripple tanks are being set up or brick carts are sent crashing. We may not leave Physics knowing all of our formulas but we will never forget Millican's experiment.

Mrs. Martin was missed tremendously this year after being relieved of her yearbook duties as faculty sponsor. We are only hoping she may reconsider after being away from it a year. Her helpful guidance was missed at all of our late night meetings along with her ready wit and a way with words.

This is just a brief sketch of why these two people are our choice for the Landmark Dedication. Mrs. Martin will be with the school in the school year 77-78 and continue to share her talents and interest with the students we leave behind.

Our Mr. Heekin will always be with us in spirit and his influence of the last ten year period has left a lasting mark. We as seniors, would have him know that he's been a special person to us and it seemed most fitting that he also be honored in this, his final year at Evansville Day School.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

No use wondering where the years have gone
Time waits for no one.
We all have to go on
But every now and then I look up an old friend
And come home to someplace I used to belong

MEN'S TENNIS

The men's tennis team had another winning season this year. We lost only one player last year and gained a few strong players. Our record was 8 and 7. If there were a league standing, we would place third to Henderson County and Owensboro Senior respectively. Unfortunately, according to Kentucky rules, one can replay his top men in doubles, therefore disregarding a team's depth. Day School had easily more depth than any other team

We had an outstanding coach this year in Nick Hagerman. He provided needed strategic knowledge and encouragement on the sidelines of every match. He also irradiated a spirit which is much needed and is rarely found, the spirit of going out to play well and at the same time have a good time, which is what tennis is all about.

Bobby Harned held first singles position, while Harold Lessure, Jot Sheehan, Paul Simon, and Rush Fay held the other singles positions. Doubles were played by Danny Davoust, Steve Breckenridge, Tom Kissel, James Stone, and Geoff Hyatt.

Coach Dana Hurst (RIGHT) says she is looking to this year for a fine season and expects most of the girls to return. One of the girls she will be counting on is Jan Bates (LEFT). Jan's year was shortened by an arm injury. Coach Hurst is expecting Jan to help the team immensely by shoring up the intermediate level.

This year's Beginners class suffered from a rash of injuries and illnesses which kept it from being as good as it could have been. Competing in the Beginners Class last year were: (CLOCKWISE FROM LEFT) Patti Davoust, Cathy Adams, Carol Hovda, Gayle Gerling and Libby Wetzel. Libby is one of the best on the uneven bars and Coach Hurst expects her to have a good year again next year.

Shannon Hensley and Meg Fitzsimmons competed in the Intermediate and Optional classes, respectively. Shannon had a fine year, taking all-around honors twice and doing no worse than second in any event. Meg's year was excellent despite an arm injury which kept her from competing on the uneven bars. Because of the injury, her season was cut short and her talents were greatly missed

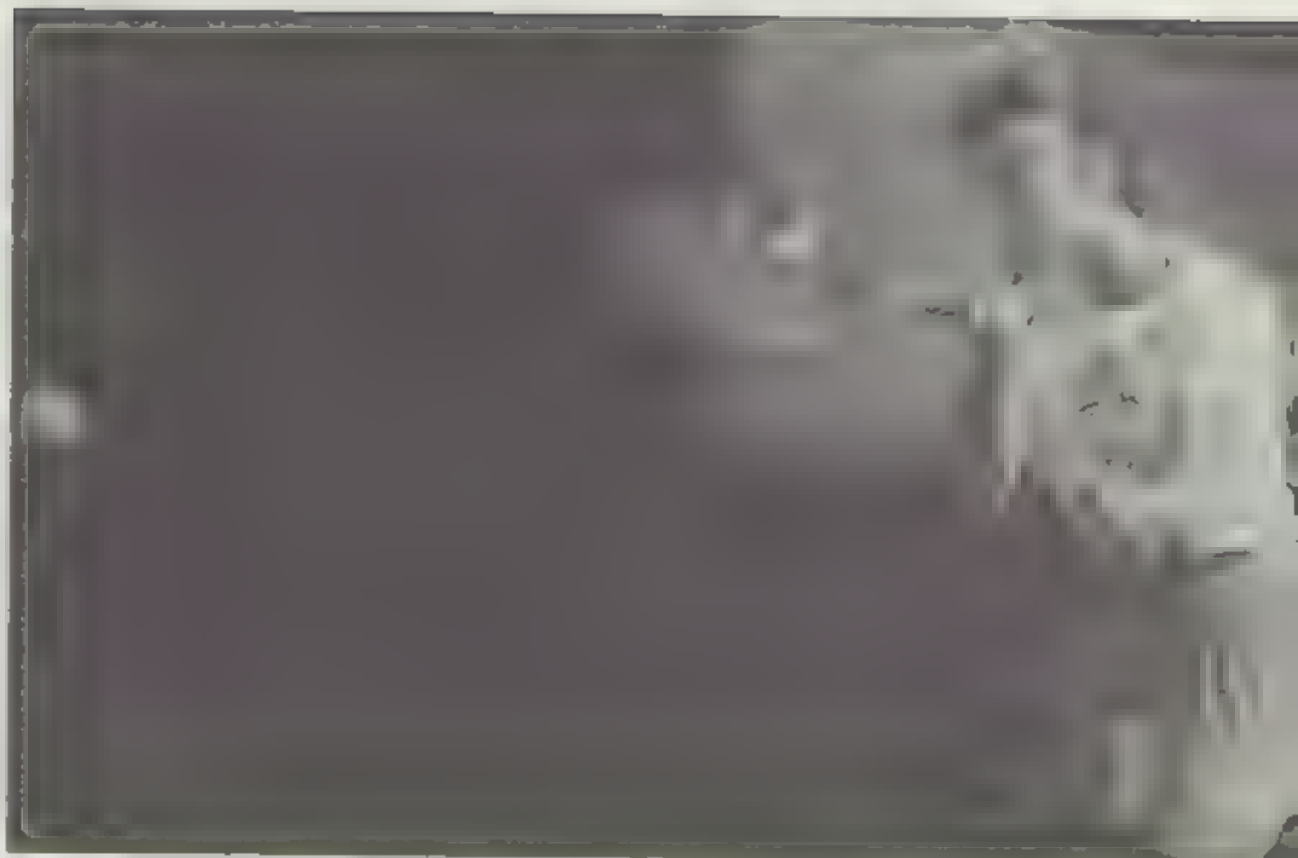

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Johnny Wooden once said, "Your record tells how many games you won and lost, not whether you had a successful season." This could well apply to the girls' tennis team, which ended with a 3-6 record. A record of three wins and six losses easily lends itself to excuses or apologies; neither are needed here. While the girls had their share of bad luck, only consistently tough Owensboro High beat them soundly. In their other matches, the girls gave their opponents a run for their money. This was a real tribute to the girls on the team who had little previous tennis experience.

Liz Ryan and Liz Lewis were both sidelined for the season with injuries after only a couple of matches. With two of the top six girls unable to play, some underclassmen who had little playing experience were called upon to fill in early in the season.

One of the bright spots of the season was the underclassmen and the promise that they showed. Laura Sagter wound up as MVP despite having only taken up tennis the previous summer, and Meg Fitzsimmons channeled her energies into tennis for the first time and received the Most Improved Player award. Singles positions were held by Marjorie Traylor, Kathi Hovda, Laura Sagter, Lori Lamb, and Eleanor McCarthy. Doubles positions were held by Kym Hyatt, Liz Lewis, Laura Sheehan, and Meg Fitzsimmons, and the girls were coached by Mr. Larry Grimes.

And tomorrow we might not be together
I'm no prophet, I don't know nature's ways.
So I'll try and see into your eyes right now
And stay right here, 'cause these are the good old days.

VINCENT BORK

The most beautiful and most profound emotion we can experience is the sensation of the mystical. It is the source of all true science. He to whom this emotion is a stranger, who can no longer wonder and stand rapt in awe, is as good as dead. To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself as the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive form—this knowledge, this feeling is at the center of true religiousness.

A black and white portrait of a man in a suit and tie, standing outdoors with trees in the background. The man is smiling slightly and looking towards the camera. He is wearing a dark suit jacket, a light-colored shirt, and a dark tie. The background is out of focus, showing trees and foliage. The image has a vintage, slightly grainy quality.

To the Graduating Seniors of 1977;

TAKE TIME

Take time for friendship when you can,
The hours fly swiftly, and the need
That presses on your fellowman
May fade away at equal speed
And you may sigh before the end
That you have failed to play the friend.
Not all life's pride is born of fame;
Not all the joy from work is won.
Too late we hang our heads in shame,
Remembering good we could have done;
Too late we wish that we had stayed
To comfort those who called for aid.
Take time to do the little things
Which leave the satisfactory thought,
When other joys have taken wings,
That we have labored as we ought;
That in a world where all contend,
We often stopped to be a friend.
